

From Sunday's Sermon: "Teach Us to Pray, Week 4"

On Sunday, October 18, Pastor Scott Moore continued our fall series on prayer with three words from Luke 11:2: "Your kingdom come." He asked us to sit in the seat of Jesus' first followers, who had longed for God's kingdom for generations while living under a Roman kingdom built on dominance and forced submission. In Luke 17, Jesus told the Pharisees that "the kingdom of God is in your midst," a word that can also mean "within you." Pastor Scott reminded us that the kingdom of God not only changes the world around us; it is changing us. It does not come through force. It comes when we voluntarily surrender our allegiance to Jesus as our king. Using the demolition of the Buffalo Bills' old stadium, he described how hard it is to let go of what is familiar, even when something better is being provided.

Reflect this week: What king and what kingdom are you going to give your allegiance to?

This week at One Hope: [The church adds this week's events here.]

Watch the sermon: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KPz9lexUwus>